5. 30.2431, Re-examination of Intelligence on Soviet ICBM Production and Deployment Program. [REDACTED] 25X1A9a

An informal contribution was submitted to I/GM on 15 October 1958.

C. Changes in estimates

The new calculation of estimated Soviet military expenditures (distributed on 4 November in IP-643) is as much as ten percent lower in certain years as compared with the previous calculations made for NIE 11-4-57 (published in IP-572).

The new series also shows a "break" in the trend of Soviet military expenditures in 1957-1958, something never displayed heretofore. A comparison of this new trend with the trend of machinery output in the Soviet Union implies the possibility of a significant amount of machinery being produced for which no account can be made. Barring some explanation due to the statistical method of constructing the index, this relationship implies the possibility of a significant understatement, either of Soviet investment and growth or of Soviet military procurement. In either of the last two events, the evaluation of Soviet trends and capabilities could be affected in important ways.

D. Relationships with other components

Dr. Possony (AFCIN) was briefed 30 October 1958 on military costing with regard to available data, results achieved to date and problems related to the analysis of pricing, taxes, budget definition. It was suggested by Dr. Possony that a joint briefing of the Library of Congress, Air Information Staff, be carried out in the near future. This will be completed in November. Dr. Possony also raised the advisability of collaboration of ORR and [REDACTED] on military expenditure problems with particular emphasis on air force. He will consult the [REDACTED] and suggest a formal arrangement be established. Action on this aspect will occur in the beginning of December. 25X1A5a1 25X1A5a1
